Adobe

Adobe Creative Suites
Adobe is pleased to announce the launch of the K-12 Enterprise Agreement (EA) program.

Last week, Adobe officially announced the launch of the K-12 EA program that will be available on May 7th.

Program Highlights:

- K-12 EA is three-year term-based licensing program available to K-12 school districts in US and Canada.
- All K-12 schools within a district must be covered.
- K-12 EA is a full-time equivalent (FTE) based program. End users will specify their FTE count on their agreement and will order licenses to cover all FTEs within their district.
- An initial order must be placed, followed by annual true-up orders on the year 2 and year 3 anniversary dates.
- K-12 EA has a minimum of 300 FTEs.
- K-12 EA include Upgrade Plan; separate Upgrade Plan purchases are not required.
- K-12 EA offers two licensing bundles: Creative Suite Bundle & Acrobat Pro Bundle.
- In addition, optional video products are available on a per-license basis. If a K-12 EA end user wishes to purchase a video product, then the quantity is based on installations, not FTE.

McAfee Security Information & Event Management (SIEM)
McAfee Unveils the First Situational and Risk Aware SIEM

April 24, 2012 – McAfee announced ground-breaking situational awareness and accuracy for Security Information and Event Management (SIEM). The introduction of McAfee Enterprise Security Manager (formerly NitroView) expands SIEM from simple event analysis to accurate and actionable information through the integration of threat, user and countermeasure intelligence.

McAfee's high-performance, powerful security information and event management (SIEM) brings event, threat, and risk data together to provide strong security intelligence, rapid incident response, seamless log management, and extensible compliance reporting. McAfee Enterprise Security Manager was honored with SC Magazine's coveted "SC Lab Approved" label in its most recent SIEM review. Recently a report from Pike Research on critical infrastructure also ranked McAfee as the top critical infrastructure vendor.

Please contact your En Pointe Sales representative to learn more about the McAfee Enterprise Security Manager and how this solution can keep your infrastructure protected and compliant.
