The Texas Education Code §8.002 permits Regional Education Service Centers, at the direction of the Commissioner of Education, to provide services to assist school districts, colleges and universities in improving student performance and increasing the efficiency and effectiveness of school, college and university financial operations.

Government Authority:

Authority for such services in New Mexico is granted under New Mexico law. N.M. STAT. ANN. §13-1-135. These competitively bid cooperative purchasing services are extended to all New Mexico State, City and County Government Agencies.

TICA also expressly states that a party to an interlocal contract may contract with a similar agency of another state. TEX. GOV'T CODE § 791.011 (b)(2). A school district is a local government in New Mexico. Therefore, an interlocal purchasing cooperative in Texas has statutory authority to contract or agree with a New Mexico public school district or other local government of New Mexico.

New Mexico law also permits state agencies and local public bodies to participate in cooperative purchasing agreements. N.M. STAT. ANN. § 13-1-135. New Mexico law provides that a local public body, such as a school district, may participate in, sponsor, or administer a cooperative procurement agreement for the procurement of any services, construction or items of tangible personal property with any other state agency, local public body or external procurement unit. Id. The definition of "cooperative procurement" is procurement conducted by or on behalf of more than one state agency or local public body, or by a state agency or local public body with an external procurement unit. N.M. STAT. ANN § 13-1-44. The definition of "external procurement unit" is "any procurement organization not located in this state which, if in this state, would qualify as a state agency or a local public body.." N.M. STAT. ANN § 13-1-56. A "local public body" includes, among other things, every public subdivision of the state and the agencies thereof. N.M. STAT. ANN § 13-1-67. A Texas regional service center is a political subdivision of the state of Texas. TEX. EDU. CODE § 8.001, et seq. Therefore, because a regional service center would be considered a "local public body" if it were located in the state of New Mexico, New Mexico public school districts, or other local governments, have statutory authority conduct cooperative purchasing with a Texas regional service center.
