Overview

Trapeze Software Group, Inc. dba Busology Tech, formerly known as, Trapeze Software Group Inc dba TripSpark Technologies is a business name and operating division of Trapeze Software Group, Inc. TripSpark is focused on the unique needs of school transportation, public and community transit, ridesharing, and medical transportation. Busology Tech makes up part of the "People Transportation" market segment within Volaris Group. The school division of Busology Tech provides a fully integrated solution for K-12 transportation routing software, along with GPS/AVL for public schools, private schools, bus contractors and special education facilities. Busology Tech software facilitates the computerization of all aspects of the student transportation scheduling and management process. We are your one stop shop making integration, service, and support a more comfortable experience for our clients. This technology enables transportation departments to save a significant amount of valuable funds by reducing the time and resources required to plan, implement, and maintain bus routes to share transportation data, evaluate waste and deadhead time, and to address safety concerns promptly and easily. Additionally, our software enables the optimization of fleet costs by mainstreaming the total number of vehicles and mileage required to successfully complete daily routes.
