Overview

NV5 provides engineering, technology, and acoustic consulting services to public and private owners from offices nationwide and abroad. We specialize in the planning and design of systems and spaces for markets including educational, government, institutional, cultural, healthcare, corporate, hospitality, and sports & rec.

Our holistic approach with a single point of contact for a broad range of converged disciplines includes Audiovisual, IT/Telecom, Security, Acoustics, and Specialty Lighting. This consolidated approach streamlines interdisciplinary alignment and project delivery, resulting in improved team communication and coordination.

We're passionate about technology — 100% of technical specialists hold advanced credentials in their respective disciplines — and are committed to an inclusive process for delivering Best-in-Class solutions designed with you, for you.

Our award-winning consulting practice is fiercely independent, meaning we receive no incentives or revenue from any representation, manufacture, sale, or installation of any product, and have no ongoing affiliation with any entity that sells or installs related systems or services. This ensures you can trust us for completely unbiased recommendations based on each project's unique needs and goals. We represent only your best interests, providing objective, vendor-neutral counsel.

At NV5, our combined capabilities bring effective resolutions to complex issues. We take pride in helping our clients improve the places they live, work, and play.
