NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR AUTHORITY TO RECONCILE FUEL COSTS

Southwestern Electric Power Company (SWEPCO) petitioned the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission) on August 28, 2017 for authority to reconcile its eligible fuel expenses and revenues for the period from March 1, 2014 through February 28, 2017 (Reconciliation Period). This application, if granted, will affect all Texas retail customers.

During the Reconciliation Period, SWEPCO incurred a total of $670,859,057 in eligible fuel, fuel-related expenses, and purchased-power costs to generate and purchase electric energy for its Texas retail customers, as well as expenses associated with environmental consumables and emission allowance costs allocated to its Texas retail customers. As of the end of the Reconciliation Period, SWEPCO calculates that it has over-recovered its Texas retail fuel, fuel related, and purchased-power costs by $4,384,730, excluding interest. Including interest, SWEPCO's cumulative over-recovery balance is $4,459,126 as of February 28, 2017.

Persons with questions or who want more information on this petition may contact SWEPCO at 428 Travis Street, Shreveport, Louisiana 71101, or call toll-free at (888) 216-3523 during normal business hours. A complete copy of this petition is available for inspection at the address listed above.

The Commission has assigned Docket No. 47553 to this proceeding. Persons who wish to formally participate in this proceeding, or who wish to express their comments concerning this petition, should contact the Public Utility Commission of Texas, Office of Customer Protection, P.O. Box 13326, Austin, Texas 78711-3326, or call (512) 936-7120 or toll-free at (888) 782-8477. Hearing- and speech-impaired individuals with text telephones (TTY) may call (512) 936-7136 or use Relay Texas (toll-free) at (800) 735-2989. A request for intervention or for further information should refer to Docket No. 47553. The deadline for intervention in this proceeding is November 17, 2017.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR AUTHORITY TO RECONCILE FUEL COSTS

Southwestern Electric Power Company (SWEPCO) petitioned the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission) on August 28, 2017 for authority to reconcile its eligible fuel expenses and revenues for the period from March 1, 2014 through February 28, 2017 (Reconciliation Period). This application, if granted, will affect all Texas retail customers.

During the Reconciliation Period, SWEPCO incurred a total of $670,859,057 in eligible fuel, fuel-related expenses, and purchased-power costs to generate and purchase electric energy for its Texas retail customers, as well as expenses associated with environmental consumables and emission allowance costs allocated to its Texas retail customers. As of the end of the Reconciliation Period, SWEPCO calculates that it has over-recovered its Texas retail fuel, fuel related, and purchased-power costs by $4,384,730, excluding interest. Including interest, SWEPCO's cumulative over-recovery balance is $4,459,126 as of February 28, 2017.

Persons with questions or who want more information on this petition may contact SWEPCO at 428 Travis Street, Shreveport, Louisiana 71101, or call toll-free at (888) 216-3523 during normal business hours. A complete copy of this petition is available for inspection at the address listed above.

The Commission has assigned Docket No. 47553 to this proceeding. Persons who wish to formally participate in this proceeding, or who wish to express their comments concerning this petition, should contact the Public Utility Commission of Texas, Office of Customer Protection, P.O. Will & Kate's magical month: April, with baby No. 3 due

Maria Puente @usatmpuente USA TODAY

It was the shortest palace press release in recent memory, and also the least surprising: "Their Royal Highnesses The Duke and Duchess of Cambridge are delighted to confirm they are expecting a baby in April 2018," Kensington Palace said Tuesday.

April 29 is Will and Kate's seventh wedding anniversary.

We already knew Duchess Kate was expecting her third baby sometime in the spring: In a surprise announcement in early September, the palace revealed the good news that she was pregnant again and the bad news that her usual acute morning sickness had struck again.

She had to cancel several planned public appearances, even the first-day-of-school run for her firstborn, Prince George.

The palace announcement follows two unexpected appearances in recent days by the duchess at public events, suggesting that her morning sickness has abated.

Last week she attended a World Mental Health Day event at Buckingham Palace with Princes William and Harry, wearing a figure-hugging cornflower-blue lace dress from Temperley London.

And on Monday she turned up at another charity event with William and Harry at Paddington Station in London, wearing a snug powder-pink dress by Orla Kiely while she danced on the train platform with someone dressed in a Paddington Bear costume.

So get ready for Round 3 of the royal baby merry-go-round – the media obsession with spot-thebaby-bump (that has started already), the betting on the baby's gender and possible names, and eventually the gathering of the media in the street outside St. Mary's Hospital (where Prince William, Prince George and second-born Princess Charlotte all came into the world) in the days leading up the birth.

In other Cambridge news Tuesday, the palace announced that the couple would visit Norway and Sweden in early 2018 (no word yet on whether George and Charlotte would accompany them), and William will spend two days in Finland starting Nov. 29.

Duchess Kate has been fighting acute morning sickness again, but she was there at at Buckingham Palace to mark World Mental Health Day on Oct. 10. HEATHCLIFF O'MALLEY, AFP/GETTY IMAGES

Macy's Parade welcomes Olaf

Brian Truitt @briantruitt USA TODAY

Forget yearning for summer: Frozen's resident snowman Olaf is about to have a monumental November.

The animated character voiced by Josh Gad has a starring role in Olaf's Frozen Adventure, a short premiering with Pixar's Coco, which hits theaters Nov. 22. And a day later, Olaf will make his debut as one of four new giant character balloons in the 91st annual Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in New York City (NBC, 9 a.m. ET/PT).

"Having an Olaf balloon alongside Mickey, Elmo and Big Bird is a dream come true." Gad savs.

He recalls watching the parade with then-girlfriend (and now wife) Ida Darvish in 2005, when Gad was living in an apartment near Macy's: "We were standing there on this rooftop watching all this in the rain, and it was just such a magical experience."

Olaf reaching the rarefied air of such pop-culture icons as Spider-Man and Spongebob Squarepants is a "humbling honor" and one that speaks to the way Frozen's snowman has struck a chord with kids. "Whether it's his purity, innocence or naïvete, there's something they all can relate to. ... I absolutely treasure that."

Gad has started voice work on the anticipated Frozen sequel due in November 2019. But before that, fans can catch up with Anna (voiced by Kristen Bell), Elsa (Idina Menzel) and the gang in Olaf's Frozen Adventure. The 22-minute featurette is a continuation of the original Frozen. With holidays on the horizon, Anna and Elsa figure out they don't have any family traditions, so Olaf scours the kingdom to find the best ones for a magical Christmas.

"In the first movie, he sings an entire song about the fact that he thinks that summer and warmth are great things for someone like him," Gad says. "But in this short, he's seeking knowledge. ... He wants to know about these things called traditions that everyone in Arendelle has, and not only embrace those traditions but find the ones that will directly help the people closest to him – these two sisters who are the very reasons why he's alive."
