Our History, Experience and Qualifications

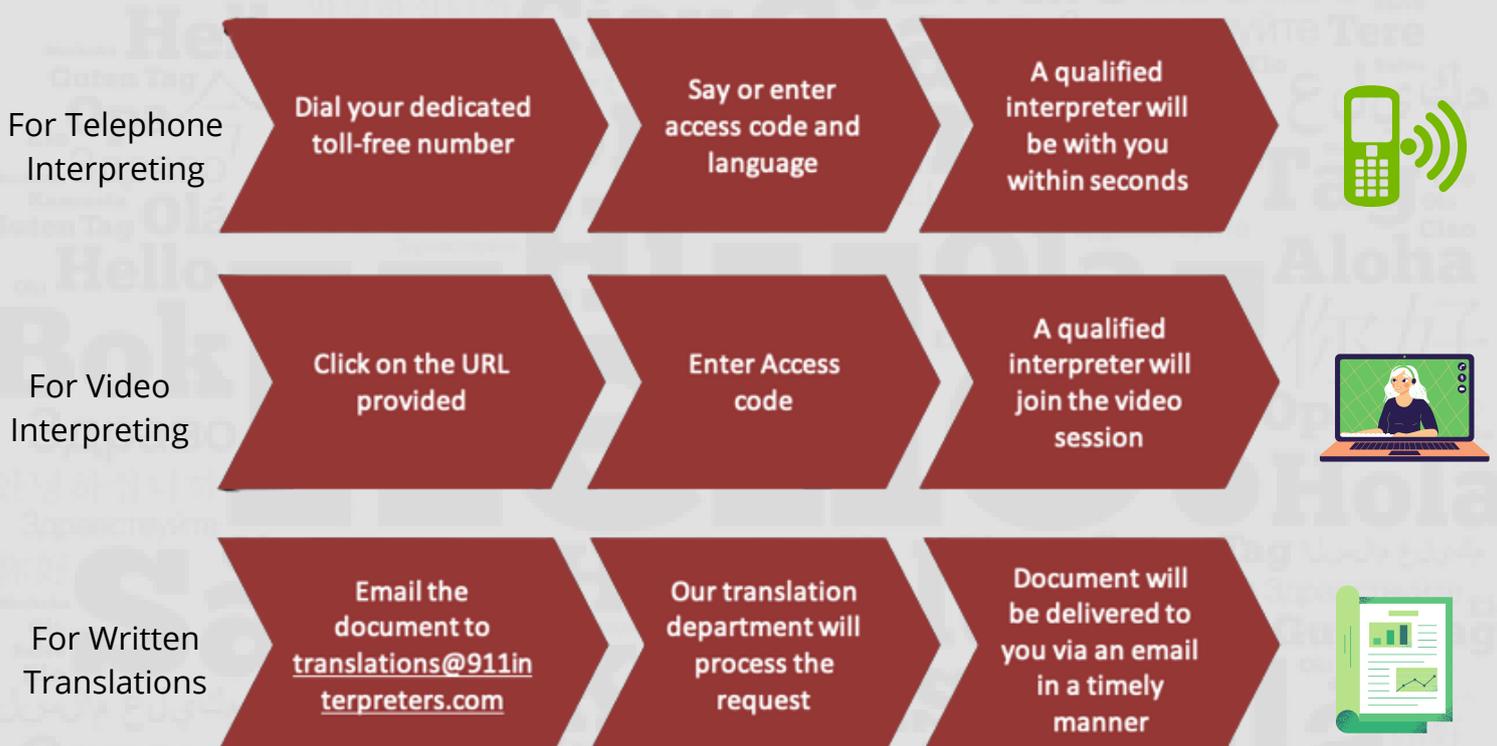

911 Interpreters was incorporated in August 1995 in response to the large demand for professional interpretation and translation services in North America. Since then, the company's primary focus has been providing quality, accredited linguistic services to all our customers.

Since 2004 we have been an ISO 9001:2000 accredited company ensuring unsurpassed quality of service and world-wide recognition. The International Organization for Standardization is the world's largest developer and publisher of International Standards which regulates the standards for businesses in 161 countries. In addition, we are a member of several professional organizations including:

- ATA (American Translators Association)
- AIIA (Language Industry Association)
- Critical Link – International Counsel for the Development of Community Interpreting
- HIN (Healthcare Interpretation Network)

The success of 911 Interpreters is largely due to the company's dedicated staff and over 7000 accredited interpreters who have consistently met and exceeded our client's requirements for quality and timely service in over 350 languages and dialects. We have developed an easy-to-use service that is a simple phone call or email away.
