Overview

FireFly Computers is a top national provider of innovative computing solutions. Since 2011, we've reimagined what a technology vendor can do to help customers meet their technology goals. FireFly focuses on providing knowledgeable, end-to-end customer support and innovative service options to save you time, effort, and money. Unlike vendors who just focus on the initial sale, our products and services support you throughout the entire device lifecycle, from finding the right equipment to deployment, professional development, warranty support, parts and repairs, and even buy-back for used devices. TIPS members will have direct access to their own dedicated, US-based, FireFly Account Manager who can help with everything from pre-sales questions to warranty support. This means you'll always get reliable service from someone who knows your account and can provide you with the timely assistance you deserve.
