Overview

RMI has manufactured a line of high performance fluid applied vapor barriers and wear surface coatings for over 30 years. The patented systems provide high solid products commensurate in performance to traditional asphalt built up, modified bitumen and single ply membranes. Unlike most other systems, RMI is compatible with the references system in addition to spray foam, metal roof panels, concrete, below grade and wall applications. RMI systems are highly resistive to extreme weather conditions including application at freezing temperatures. RMI materials reduce the typical waste factor associated with roll sheet systems, thus lowering impact on landfills and the environment. RMI roof systems further reduce impact to occupancy as compared to other conventional roof options.
