Overview

WCNSM Enterprise LLC dba Protect Ed, The portable WellAir Protect 900W incorporates patented NanoStrike™ technology that kills airborne micro-organisms, providing the first line of protection against viruses and bacteria such as influenza and COVID-19 as well as allergens, mold spores and odor-causing VOCs. The Protect 900W is the best total value product on the market for classroom settings offering schools the opportunity to implement medical grade technology without disrupting the learning environment. WellAir NanoStrike™ is an inactivation technology that does not simply trap pathogens, it eliminates them by destroying cells at the DNA and protein level, resulting in clean, disinfected air. MERV filters and other HVAC filters merely trap pathogens. Other solutions may produce harmful by-products such as ozone. NanoStrike™ inactivates harmful microorganisms in a sub-second time frame without any harmful by-products, as certified by the California Air Resource Board. The technology is rooted in science and embraced by the medical community.
