Overview

Ford is a privately held, woman owned business that has been under the same ownership and control since its inception in 1973. The company was founded with its primary business being the design and installation of professional recording studios. As a result, the philosophy was to provide the highest quality audio listening experience for the musicians and audience. This dedication to providing excellence in the aural and visual experience remains today. To accomplish this, many fundamental tasks must be performed each day. Technical systems must be engineered and installed in a precise and timely manner. Communication with and training of the Customer is essential. The philosophy extends beyond providing equipment and wiring, with the end product being the Customer experience. We are dedicated to providing highly technical communication systems in a timely manner that are cost-effective and result in a great Customer experience.
