Overview

Lerch Bates is the global multidisciplinary technical consultancy saving time and money for those designing, modernizing, investigating, or managing buildings. We serve clients of all sizes with integrated services and specialties for performance optimization at any stage of a building's lifecycle. Founded in 1947, Lerch Bates was the first vertical transportation consultant in the world. Through the growth of our 100% employee-owned firm, we have expanded our capabilities to include building enclosures and structures, vertical transportation, façade access, and logistics consulting services.
