Overview

LocusUSA is the leader in radio frequency waveform capture for radio analysis. The ability to capture and analyze the characteristics of the radio waveform led to the development of DiagnostX. This patented system measures the alignment and operating characteristics of two-way radios, touch-free, over-the-air (OTA) in real-time, without user intervention. DiagnostX ensures the optimal performance of a land mobile radio (LMR) system by improving the quality of communications between radios and the network while keeping personnel safe and ensuring operational readiness.
