Overview

At ERG International, everyday is a new day of possibilities. New possibilities for creative design of new products that invoke comfortable places to sit, and functional places to work. We start by hearing a need, and then brainstorming in the hopes to design build those needs, with products that are comfortable, attractive, functional and built with the finest materials and craftsmanship. We support a range of markets with a diverse portfolio that covers education, hospitality, healthcare and corporate spaces.

We want our products to not only serve a function, but to serve a purpose. Whether the purpose is to socialize, work together in collaborative hubs or have personal spaces for focused work, our products achieve those differing needs everyday. We understand the importance of inclusivity of all types of learning experiences and provide different products, for each type of space or configuration with supportive design.
