Overview

Benchly is a pioneering legal technology company which aims to streamline the cumbersome briefing process through the implementation of the ezBriefs Microsoft Word Add-In. ezBriefs allows users to check a brief efficiently and accurately for proper citation format, validate cited authority, and automatically generate a Table of Authorities with the click of a button. In addition to these features, ezBriefs is presented simplistically and allows users to customize the formatting of their own Tables of Authority for various state jurisdictions including the Bluebook and Greenbook uniform citation systems. ezBriefs has been designed with the needs of the user first and offers a modernized, efficient, and flexible solution when generating a Table of Authorities while supplementing the need for straightforward brief review.
