Overview

One of your most valuable assets as an organization is your data. When properly used, it can help you make better decisions, improve your services, and reduce costs through efficiency. BEPC, Inc. will consult with all of your key stakeholders to identify data sources, streamline collection and storage, and provide access to your data in a customizable and intuitive format. This will allow your organization to analyze information in real-time for data driven decision making and continuous improvement. We can connect all of your data sources and integrate them into a unified database with visualizations and automated reporting. For school districts sources can include: student information systems (SIS), learning management systems (LMS), financial management software, records management, and communication tools. For municipalities: geographic information systems (GIS), enterprise resource planning (ERP), utility operations and billing data, financial management software, asset management systems, public safety reporting, document management, and customer relationship management (CRM) tools. BEPC can also import demographic, economic, environmental, transportation, and health data from outside sources like federal and state databases. For more information about these services and the value they provide, contact us today for a quote.
