Overview

The Awareness & Compassion Project is a collaborative initiative spearheaded by seasoned practitioners from diverse fields including mindfulness & meditation training, children's tutoring, and filmmaking. This project is anchored in the shared objective of nurturing mindfulness and compassion among young individuals. Driven by the collective insight of its founding members who value the early integration of mindful practices, this initiative underscores the transformative impact of such practices on mental and emotional well-being.

The core of our offerings at The Awareness & Compassion Project is "The Aware Educator", a staff development program specifically tailored for educators, concentrating on the practices of mindfulness and meditation. This program is the heart of our mission, designed to empower educators with the skills and tools to foster a culture of mindfulness and compassion in educational settings.
