Overview

Our strong relationships with key vendors allow us to offer you access to an extensive range of advanced metering infrastructure, or AMI, products and solutions. Our MAG team will clearly identify the specific needs of your municipality and will help you select the right AMI technology based on your requirements. If your utility is interested in automatic meter reading technology, or AMR, our MAG team can customize a solution to help you improve your utility's operations. We offer comprehensive AMR and AMI products and solutions to deliver you the convenience of smart meter reading. See how your utility can benefit through these systems and learn more about our capabilities.
